Projects

face Recognition

- Face Recognition Using Siamese Networks — Self Project
- Built a face recognition system using Siamese networks in TensorFlow, based on Koch et al., CVPRW 2015
- Implemented twin neural networks with shared weights and contrastive loss for learning facial similarity
- Trained with triplet loss with an L1 distance layer to distinguish between closely related faces

Plagiarism Detector

- Designed a C++ plagiarism checker using matrix-based techniques for efficient matching, with a multi-threaded, asynchronous system for real-time bulk processing and timestamp-based analysis to minimize false positives/negatives
- Conducted security testing by crafting hacks to bypass vulnerabilities in peer-designed plagiarism detectors

Dating website • Built a full-stack dating app with user auth, real-time features, and parallax scrolling for an engaging UI/UX. • Implemented an algorithm-driven matchmaking system for personalized matches based on user preferences • Developed a profile browsing interface with advanced filtering by age, gender, and interests, enhancing user search
